State of Utah Department of Workforce Services Notice About Investigatory Uses of Personal Information

Two Federal Laws govern personal information submitted to Federal agencies, including the Civil Rights Center (CRC) and agencies receiving Federal funding, such as the Department of Workforce Services (DWS; the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552), and the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552), or "FOIA." Please read this description of how these laws apply to information connected with your complaint. After reading this notice, please sign, date, and return the consent agreement attached to this notice, along with your complaint form.

The Privacy Act protects individuals from misuse of personal information held by the Federal Government and its agents as noted above. The law applies to records that are kept and can be located by the individual's name, social security number, or other personal identification systems. Anyone who submits information to the Department of Workforce Services (DWS) in connection with a discrimination complaint should know the following:

- * DWS has been authorized to investigate complaints of discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, and handicap, and in some programs on the basis of sex, religion, citizenship, and political affiliation or belief, in programs that receive Federal funds through the Department of Labor. DWS is also authorized to conduct reviews of its Federally funded programs to assess their compliance with civil rights laws.
- * Information that DWS collects is analyzed by authorized personnel within DWS. This information may include personnel or program participant records, and other personal information. DWS staff may need to reveal some of the personal information to individuals outside the office in order to verify facts related to the complaint, or to discover new facts which will help DWS to determine whether the law has been violated. Such information could include, for example, the physical condition or age of the complainant. DWS may also have to reveal personal information to a person who submits a request for disclosure authorized by the Freedom of Information Act.
- * Information submitted to DWS may also be revealed to personnel outside of DWS because it is necessary in order to complete enforcement proceedings against a person(s) or organization that DWS finds to have violated the law or regulations. Such information could include, for example, the name, income, age, marital status, or physical condition of the complainant.
- * Any personal information you provide may be used only for the specific purpose for which it was requested. DWS requests personal information only for the purpose of carrying out authorized activities to enforce and determine compliance with civil rights laws and regulations. DWS will not release personal information to any person or organization unless the person who submitted the information gives written consent, or unless release is required by the Freedom of Information Act.
- * No law requires that a complainant reveal personal information to DWS and no action will be taken against a person who denies DWS request for personal information. However, if DWS cannot obtain the information needed to fully investigate the allegations in the complaint, DWS may close the case.
- * Any person may ask for, and receive copies of all personal materials, DWS' EO Officer keeps in his or her file for investigatory use.

AS A POLICY, DWS DOES NOT REVEAL NAMES AND OTHER IDENTIFYING INFORMATION ABOUT INDIVIDUALS, UNLESS IT IS NECESSARY TO COMPLETE INVESTIGATION OR ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES AGAINST A PERSON(S) OR ORGANIZATION WHO HAS VIOLATED THE LAW.

The Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) gives the public maximum access to Federal Government files and records. Persons may request and receive information from many types of records kept by the Government - not just materials that apply to them personally. DWS must honor most requests for information submitted under FOIA, but there are exceptions:

- * DWS is generally not required to release information during an investigation or an enforcement proceeding if that release would limit DWS' ability to do its job effectively; and
- * DWS can refuse to disclose information if release would result in a "clearly unwarranted invasion" of a person's privacy.

PLEASE READ AND SIGN SECTION A OR SECTION B OF THE CONSENT FORM PRINTED ON THE BACK OF THIS NOTICE, AND RETURN IT TO DWS WITH YOUR SIGNED, COMPLETED COMPLAINT FORM.
