NONPROFITS, THE IRS, and OTHER REGULATIONS

Well, it's tax season, and if your tax year ended December 31, hopefully things are well underway for filing your annual information return or notice with the IRS and your 990. For information on the 990, see <http://www.irs.gov/Charities-&-Non-Profits/Annual-Electronic-Filing-Requirement-for-Small-Exempt-Organizations-Form-990-N-%28e-Postcard%29> . But there are other things for nonprofits to think about in regard to the IRS. Are you doing everything you need to in order to maintain your tax exempt status? A trainer and a consultant are as close as a click on the internet—well almost. The IRS provides a well-organized set of webpages with print materials, videos and webinars on the important things you need to know and review. <http://www.irs.gov/Charities-&-Non-Profits>

To learn about automatic revocation of exemption status that small nonprofits may confront if information and the 990's are not filed timely, go to <http://www.irs.gov/Charities-&-Non-Profits/Automatic-Revocation-of-Exemption> . It has valuable information on how to not have your tax exempt status revoked at all, and how to get it back if that happens.

If you are just contemplating applying for tax exempt status, you may be thrilled to know that the new Form 1023-EZ, Streamlined Application for Recognition of Exemption, has been launched. See www.irs.gov/form1023ez for eligibility details. If you are not eligible for the fast route, this link will lead you to through the traditional 1023. <http://www.stayexempt.irs.gov/StartingOut.aspx>

For specific information on staying exempt, go to <http://www.stayexempt.irs.gov/> If you click on “Existing Organizations”, you can select videos or pdf versions of topics including Form 990, employment issues, required disclosures, unrelated business income, charitable gaming and so on. <http://www.stayexempt.irs.gov/ExistingOrganizations.aspx> . Then, as needed, go on to In-Depth Topics and their Resource Library.

Of particular value is the “Life Cycle of an Exempt Organization” page, <http://www.irs.gov/Charities-&-Non-Profits/Life-Cycle-of-an-Exempt-Organization> . They break things down in detail, by type of charity.

The webpages of the US Small Business Administration are even easier to read, and often have helpful suggestions. Find online training, articles and tools in their Learning Center, <https://www.sba.gov/tools/sba-learning-center> . Two articles that are specific to nonprofit management are:

- 1) How to Start a Non-Profit Organization, <https://www.sba.gov/blogs/how-start-non-profit-organization-0>
- 2) How to Legally Partner with a Non-Profit Organization, <https://www.sba.gov/.../how-legally-partner-non-profit-organization>

The SBA also facilitates local counseling, mentoring, and training through their SCORE program and business development centers, <https://www.sba.gov/tools/local-assistance/map/state/UT> .

One more thing to remember is that there are also state and local licensing requirements, some of them necessary before you begin to solicit donations, and most need to be renewed periodically. Utah Nonprofits Association has resources: <https://utahnonprofits.org/nonprofit-resource-center/starting-a-nonprofit> . The Utah Department of Commerce pages can help with information on incorporating in Utah and applying for or renewing business licenses.

The Charitable Solicitations Act, Utah Code Ann. §§ 13-22-1 et seq., regulates fundraising in Utah. Unless exempted from registration under the statute, (see Utah Code Ann. § 13-22-8 for a list of exemptions), a charity must register with the Utah Division of Consumer Protection and file annual reports to be allowed to solicit charitable contributions in the state. Registration of a charitable organization is only valid for one year, and may be renewed only by complying with the requirements for obtaining an initial registration.

If you were hoping that you could avoid the bother by hiring a professional fund raiser, think again. According to the LexMundi Pro Bono Foundation, “professional fundraisers are prohibited from soliciting any contribution for any charitable organization in the State of Utah unless both the professional fundraiser and any nonexempt charitable organization that is benefited are registered with the Division of Consumer Protection. Professional fundraising counselors or consultants are similarly prohibited from planning, advising, counseling, or preparing material for solicitations in the State of Utah of a contribution for a charitable organization unless the professional fundraising counselor or consultant and any nonexempt charitable organization that is benefited are registered with the Division of Consumer Protection.”

You will also need to check with local government for their licensing requirements.

DEADLINES

More and more deadlines for submitting applications are NO LONGER 5:00 p.m. Many are before noon on the stated date. We have marked a couple of examples in this issue, but they are not alone. It pays to read the fine print and know your deadline to the minute. It also pays to plan to submit days in advance of the deadline, because things can and do happen when you are trying to submit.

TRENDS IN RELIGIOUS HOSTILITIES

According to Pew Research Center, social hostilities worldwide involving religion declined somewhat in 2013 after reaching a six-year peak the previous year, but roughly a quarter of countries are still experiencing issues.

VACCINATIONS

The measles outbreak in Utah was less serious than in some other western states, and has been declared over for our state. However, the question of whether or not to allow children to be exempt from vaccinations has been hotly discussed. While all states require children to receive certain vaccinations before they can enter public school, most states offer nonmedical exemptions to those requirements. (Every state allows exemptions for children who cannot be vaccinated for medical reasons.)

Forty-seven states currently allow exemptions for religious reasons, while only 18 allow exemptions for philosophical reasons. Utah is a state that allows exemptions for either reason, through a formal procedure, and requires local health department clinics to not refuse to vaccinate because parents cannot pay—they must offer a sliding scale fee, or no cost when appropriate. California is another state that allows parents to apply for exemptions, though legislation is proposed in California to end that because of their recent experience with as the state with the most serious measles outbreak.

Even though religious exemptions for vaccinations are commonplace, researchers and journalists have struggled to identify a single major U.S. religious group that currently advocates against vaccination for children. More than eight-in-ten U.S. adults (83%) say that vaccines for diseases like measles, mumps and rubella are safe for healthy children, while 9% say they are not safe, according to a recent Pew Research Center poll. A larger proportion (92%) of college graduates believe measles vaccine to be safe.

More information is available from the Utah Department of Health.

AFFORDABLE CARE: DID PEOPLE BENEFIT?

A new report from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services shows that an estimated 6.5 million people signing up for health insurance through HealthCare.gov qualify for an average of $268 per month in advanced premium tax credits. The vast majority – 87 percent – of individuals who are signed up through HealthCare.gov qualify for financial assistance. Also, most people who signed up for 2015 coverage could choose a plan with a premium of only $100 or less after tax credits.

PRESCRIPTIONS FOR SENIORS AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

Disability.gov reports that millions of seniors and people with disabilities on Medicare have saved billions of dollars on prescription drugs and had improved benefits in 2014 under the Affordable Care Act. Seniors and people with disabilities saved an average of $941 per beneficiary last year. The use of preventive services has also increased among people with Medicare.

PICTURE YOUR CUSTOMERS:

THIS YEAR, MILLENNIALS WILL OVERTAKE BABY BOOMERS

As Baby Boomers pass away and become fewer in number, it is not the generation just younger that will take over as the largest generation. Millennials, people born between 1981 and 1997 outnumber the Generation X, born between 1965 and 1980.

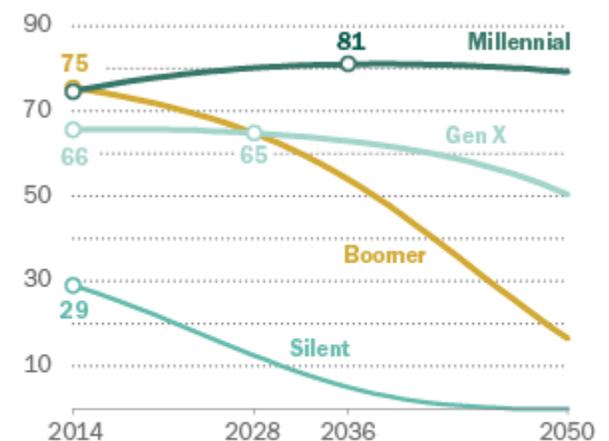

The Census Bureau projects that the Millennial population was 74.8 million in 2014. By 2015 Millennials will increase in size to 75.3 million and become the biggest group. With immigration adding more numbers to its group than any other, the Millennial population is projected to peak in 2036 at 81.1 million. Thereafter the oldest Millennial will be at least 56 years of age and mortality is projected to outweigh net immigration. By 2050 there will be a projected 79.2 million Millennials.

For a few more years, Gen Xers are projected to remain the “middle child” of generations – caught between two larger generations of the Millennials and the Boomers. They are smaller than Millennials because the generational span of Gen X (16 years) is shorter than the Millennials (17 years). Also, the Gen Xers were born during a period when Americans were having fewer children than later decades. When Gen Xers were born, births averaged around 3.4 million per year, compared with the 3.9 million annual rate during the 1980s and 1990s when Millennials were born.

Though the oldest Gen Xer is now 50, the Gen X population will still grow for a few more years. The Gen X population is projected to outnumber the Boomers in 2028 when there will be 64.6 million Gen Xers and 63.7 million Boomers. The Census Bureau projects that the Gen X population will peak at 65.8 million in 2018.

Baby Boomers have always had an outsized presence compared with other generations. They were the largest generation and peaked at 78.8 million in 1999. There were a projected 75.4 million Boomers in 2014. By midcentury, the Boomer population will dwindle to 16.6 million.

Deadline: July 7, 2015 (Letters of Interest)

<http://us-jf.org/>

JAPANESE / PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND SCHOOL PROGRAMS

The United States-Japan foundation awards grants in support of projects that involve pre-college (K-12) teachers in the U.S. and Japan in mutual study and learning on topics related to the U.S.-Japan relationship. In addition, the foundation supports programs that leverage the expertise in institutions of higher learning and NGOs on behalf of U.S.-Japan studies programs at the elementary, middle, and high school levels in both countries; present research, policy studies, and media programs on U.S.-Japan issues to an audience of pre-college students and their teachers; and enhance, expand, and preserve the study of the Japanese language at the pre-college level in the United States through professional development opportunities for teachers, national standards, and performance assessments.

Proposed projects should seek to incorporate one or more of these elements in a way that is particularly suited to the need(s) in pre-college education they seek to address. The above guidelines should not be seen as a deterrent to innovative new proposals and concepts.

Deadlines: LOIs must be received no later than July 15, 2015. Upon review, selected applicants will be invited to submit full proposals, which must be returned by August 31, 2015.

KEEPING PEOPLE AND PETS TOGETHER IN TIMES OF CRISIS

Letters of interest (LOIs) are invited from national organizations that provide direct services to ailing children and adults, veterans, the frail elderly, and women and children fleeing domestic violence who risk losing their pets because no one is there to help them....

Amie's Place Foundation is a New York City-based nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization which is opening grant opportunities nationally. The Foundation hopes to see these model programs replicated around the nation to prevent the unnecessary separation of people and pets that need each other.

Organizations should mail an LOI prior to submitting an application to: Amie's Place Foundation - Church Street Station - PO Box 1799 - New York, New York 10008. LOIs must include most recent IRS tax-exempt status letter and brief history and goals of the applicant organization; description of the program to be funded and the organization's involvement with the issues it seeks to address; a summary of activities for which the organization requests support; an outline of the organization's objectives, anticipated outcomes and implications. Please include the approximate starting date of the program, the duration that the funding will cover, amount of funding needed, other sources of support, and current contact information of the person responsible for communicating with the Foundation. Following Amie's Place Foundation Board review, qualified organizations will be invited to submit a complete application package.

JAPANESE / PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND SCHOOL PROGRAMS

The United States-Japan foundation awards grants in support of projects that involve pre-college (K-12) teachers in the U.S. and Japan in mutual study and learning on topics related to the U.S.-Japan relationship. In addition, the foundation supports programs that leverage the expertise in institutions of higher learning and NGOs on behalf of U.S.-Japan studies programs at the elementary, middle, and high school levels in both countries; present research, policy studies, and media programs on U.S.-Japan issues to an audience of pre-college students and their teachers; and enhance, expand, and preserve the study of the Japanese language at the pre-college level in the United States through professional development opportunities for teachers, national standards, and performance assessments.

Proposed projects should seek to incorporate one or more of these elements in a way that is particularly suited to the need(s) in pre-college education they seek to address. The above guidelines should not be seen as a deterrent to innovative new proposals and concepts.

Deadlines: LOIs must be received no later than July 15, 2015. Upon review, selected applicants will be invited to submit full proposals, which must be returned by August 31, 2015.

HEALTH CENTERS

Federally-funded health centers care for you, even if you have no health insurance. You pay what you can afford, based on your income. Health centers provide

- checkups when you're well
- treatment when you're sick
- complete care when you're pregnant
- immunizations and checkups for your children
- dental care and prescription drugs for your family
- mental health and substance abuse care if you need it

Health centers are in most cities and many rural areas. There are 37 in Utah. This website has a locator, to find the health center closest to you.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

The Kellogg Foundation Though the emphasis for Kellogg has recently changed and some tools have been removed from the website it still offers resources and tools though they are fewer and harder to find now (search on the home page for Knowledge Center). Some of the most useful resources were developed a few years ago, so don't be afraid to scroll back a few years. For example, see "Nonprofit Good Practice Guide, Jan 2006, <http://www.wkkf.org/resource-directory/resource/2006/01/nonprofit-good-practice-guide> and "Childhood Obesity journal devotes entire issue to school food" <http://www.wkkf.org/news-and-media/article/2012/08/childhood-obesity-journal-devotes-entire-issue-to-school-food> .
<http://www.wkkf.org/> .

Check out design and evaluation Tools by scrolling down on this page: <http://www.wkkf.org/what-we-do/mission-driven-investments/measurement-and-tools> and a new online tool for measuring child well-being at <http://www.wkkf.org/news-and-media/article/2014/03/new-online-tool-offers-unique-way-to-measure-child-wellbeing> .

If your interest in this foundation centers on funding, be sure to read "How We Work" to learn the Kellogg strategy, which involves providing information, expertise and dialogue rather than just grants. Utah is not a priority area for grants, so the Resource Directory, <http://www.wkkf.org/resource-directory>, may still be the most valuable support to Utah organizations. Click on "Focus Areas" for easier navigation. Funding from Kellogg is often leveraged, however, through partners, who then provide specific opportunities. See <http://www.wkkf.org/what-we-support/what-we-support.aspx>

WOMEN'S HEALTH DATA TOOL

The Office on Women's Health <http://www.womenshealth.gov/> is offering training on how to use their online information system –Quick Health Data Online. The system contains data on demographics, mortality, reproductive and maternal health, disease incidence, and access to care at the county level for all states and territories; additionally, data are included on prevention, violence, and mental health at the state level. To the extent possible, data are provided by race, ethnicity and gender, and where applicable/available, by age. Also, the system incorporates graphing and mapping features so that the data of interest can be used directly as tables, graphs/chart and maps.

This data will be useful to grantwriters looking for supporting data when applying for contracts and grants as well as to anyone working in women's healthcare to prepare for implementation of the Affordable Care Act, especially for tracking access to health care and access to preventive services.

HEALTHCARE / MEDICARE GUIDE

This guide explains how Medicare works with other kinds of insurance or coverage and who should pay the bills first. Some people with Medicare have other insurance or coverage that must pay before Medicare pays its share of your bill. This link opens a 44 page PDF document.

GRANTS LIST

The Grants4teachers site allows educators to search a database of federal, state and private foundations and grants available to schools and non-profit organizations. They do, however, capture your email address and also sell advertisements, so visitors need to use caution and discretion. This can be useful if you are not close to a Foundation Center Cooperating Collection, though it is not as easy to use. The site also collects grant writing tips from contributors.

EDUTOPIA GRANTS LISTS AND INFORMATION

The George Lucas Educational Foundation is a nonprofit operating foundation, not a grant-making organization. What they offer is information on a wide variety of topics. At one time, they maintained a list of grants lists for educators. While it is not set up this way now, a search of their website brought up some, encased in articles and blogs. The first link is to their website, the second is to the grants lists page.

TOOL KIT / GRANTSEEKING / LIBRARIES AND MUSEUMS

The Institute of Museum and Library Services has a nice grant seeking tool and a kind of writing tool kit online, at <http://www.imls.gov/applicants/applicants> . It is oriented to their own grant systems, but contains tools that would help with other grant applications, especially if you are a museum or library. The site provides a nice search tool for RFP's, again for museums and libraries or closely allied nonprofits.

HEALTH POLICY INFORMATION

A leader in health policy and communications, the Kaiser Family Foundation is a non-profit, private operating foundation focusing on the major health care issues facing the U.S., as well as the U.S. role in global health policy. Unlike grant-making foundations, Kaiser develops and runs its own research and communications programs, sometimes in partnership with other non-profit research organizations or major media companies.
