With their counselor and disability being a part of the process, our process is even smoother than ever. We reach out to our participants and companies to build relationships with them. Our goal is to ensure that participants are able to successfully integrate into the workforce.

About us:

TAP was launched in February to help transition into the workforce after a successful week of interviews. We’re working with local state and federal officials to ensure that participants have access to resources that will help them succeed in the workplace.

how it works:

1. Participants are matched with job opportunities through a process that includes interviews and assessments.
2. Participants are trained and supported in their transition to the workforce.
3. Participants are placed in jobs that are tailored to their needs.

The Launch:

The goal of the TAP program is to help people with disabilities find employment in the workforce. By working with local state and federal officials, we are able to identify potential job opportunities for participants. We work closely with companies to ensure that participants have the necessary skills and support to succeed in the workplace.
