

Get Paid

to Train
Your Best Employee!

When you hire a qualified person with a disability through Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), you get a reliable employee AND get training costs paid!

On-the-Job Training (OJT) provides employers the opportunity to train job-qualified individuals in the specific skills needed for your business while receiving a subsidy to offset your cost in providing that training. Businesses can also earn federal tax credits and payments.

Vocational rehabilitation counselors can help match the most qualified applicant to positions and follow through with supports and accommodations.

To learn more about hiring and the OJT Program, contact your local Vocational Rehabilitation office at www.usor.utah.gov/contact or call (800) 473-7530 toll free. ●
